its being built. The survey is being made in accordance with the charter granted in 1890 to the Chittenden County railroad company, in the words of the charter it is "for the purpose of construct-ing a railroad with a single or double track, and with standard or narrow gauge, commencing at some point in the town of Essex, Chittenden county, Vt., thence running southerly by the most venient route through any or all of the following towns: South Barlington, Williston Shelburne, St. George and Housburgh, and thence extending westerly or southerly to any point in the southern or western bound ary of the State." Hinesburgh people are interested in the road and the tended to demonstrate to them the feasibilit ty of the scheme.

Mr. Sinclair and his assistants have completed the survey to within about six miles Hinesburgh and so far have found a court easily graded and perfectly practicable. The is almost entirely across country touching the highway but once. Mr. Sinclair says the idea was to find a route for a road that could be operated with steam dura mies after the number of suburban transit roads near the large cities.
